

Perioperative Services

The J2 Group's work brings clinical initiatives in line with business initiatives. We understand the importance of cost control, but we never lose sight of the impact on patient care.

What Sets Us Apart

We "roll up our sleeves," working as mentors alongside your staff and management to optimize your processes and clinical information systems quickly and effectively to meet your goals.

Client Advocacy

The J2 Group is familiar with today's top of the line surgical information systems. We complement the vendor by working as the client advocate during implementation, as well as after a system "goes live." Our expertise will lessen the learning curve.

Quality Methods

All our services operate within a framework that values collaborative, process-oriented decisions and measurable results.

J2 Knowledge Network

The J2 Group understands your challenges and your need for online, real-time forums. We leverage today's technology to connect you with your industry peers in the dynamic transformation of perioperative services.

Making Change and Clinical Information Systems
Work for You

THE J2 GROUP INC

HEALTH SYSTEMS MANAGEMENT SERVICES

Perioperative Services

The J2 Group's work brings clinical initiatives in line with business initiatives. We understand the importance of cost control, but we never lose sight of the impact on patient care.

What Sets Us Apart

We "roll up our sleeves," working as mentors alongside your staff and management to optimize your processes and clinical information systems quickly and effectively to meet your goals.

Client Advocacy

The J2 Group is familiar with today's top of the line surgical information systems. We complement the vendor by working as the client advocate during implementation, as well as after a system "goes live." Our expertise will lessen the learning curve.

Quality Methods

All our services operate within a framework that values collaborative, process-oriented decisions and measurable results.

J2 Knowledge Network

The J2 Group understands your challenges and your need for online, real-time forums. We leverage today's technology to connect you with your industry peers in the dynamic transformation of perioperative services.

At The J2 Group, we believe our job isn't done until you assume ownership of your systems. We empower you with the ability to incorporate new processes into the delivery of patient care while improving business results.

Our Consulting Services Focus On

- Customized Assessments
- Information System Selection
- Project Management
- Work Process Review
- Information System Implementation
- Clinical System Competencies
- Remote Services

Contact us to discuss how we can adapt our services to meet your unique perioperative needs.

THE BOTTOM LINE

MANAGING CHANGE

Change creates its own challenges. Putting into place new clinical systems requires more than just retraining staff. New systems demand a closer look at your workflow processes, clinical practices, measurement tools...even your corporate culture.

By employing a life cycle approach to the full spectrum of system activities, we minimize the surprises inherent in change.

The J2 Group manages change on the front lines of healthcare. We've come of age during an era of challenge and innovation; we understand the way things used to be, the way they are now and the way they're going to be. Our client profile includes regional community hospitals, multi-facility health systems and world renowned academic medical centers—anywhere that the changing needs of perioperative services are being addressed.

The J2 Group brings your facility a knowledgeable, accomplished team of consultants, committed to humane solutions and respectful of workplace diversity. Each of us comes to you from a perioperative services background, with clinical, IT and business skills. Working flexibly either on- or off-site, we provide expertise, experience and mentoring to uphold your standards of patient care and control your costs.

We work with you,
so that change works for you.

“The J2 Group not only works with the electronic aspects
but also with the idea of human variability.
They are leaders and change agents in the arena of surgical healthcare.”

LYDIA FORSYTHE, PHD, MA, MSN, RN, CNOR

Contact us to discuss how we can adapt our services to meet your unique perioperative needs.

THE J2 GROUP INC

contact@j2grp.com
j2grp.com